OREGON GIRLS ARRIVE ON COAST

SAN FRANCISCO, March 20.—The Journal Honolulu party arrived yesterday afternoon on the steamer Sierra from Australia and Honolulu. Every one was well and expressed themselves as having enjoyed the trip of their lives.

The party was given a reception on the Sierra on the homeward trip and was escorted through Chinatown by San Francisco newspaper men and given a reception last evening.

As arrangements had been made for the party to leave San Francisco last evening only the Misses Heaven, Parsley and Courtemanche decided to make the trip in charge of The Journal representative, the rest of the party, the Misses Madigan, Proebstel, Brown, Crossen, Phillips, Nash and King remained in San Francisco and will visit with friends for a short time.

Mrs. E. T. Weathered, the chaperon of the party, states that they were royally entertained while in Hawaii, and she has nothing but praise for the island and the people of Honolulu. She bears an invitation from the Hawaiian Promotion Committee to the National Editorial association, which meets in Indianapolis in June, to hold their 1907 convention in Honolulu.

The young ladies making the trip in charge of The Journal representative will reach Portland tomorrow morning.

Sometimes when you have a cold a warm drink will bring you relief. Even when you are feeling all right, a hot toddy at the end of the day has a wonderfully soothing effect. The hot drink in all its glory and infinite variety is to be obtained at the CRITERION, served as it should be.

KITE FLYING IN CHINATOWN.

It is kite-flying time in Chinatown now and all sorts of queer paper reptiles, birds, insects and animals haunt the upper air. Last evening, just about 6 o'clock, a huge dragon-fly sported with a quivering pollywog and an inflated turtle watched them from a distance. In the street a Chinaman was playing two paper hawks against each other, using a single thread from which branch threads ran to the swooping and circling birds. Kite-flying of this sort is a sport for men rather than children.
